BILL BANKS NAMED CHAIRMAN ADVANCE GIFTS COMMITTEE

NAVARRO COUNTY RED CROSS CHAPTER GIVES FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The Navarro County Red Cross chapter will need $7,354.68 with which to operate in 1948, according to a breakdown in the budget furnished Thursday by J. N. Garitty, county chairman.

The chapter has set its goal for the annual March campaign at $13,954.68. Of this amount $6,600 goes to the national organization.

Advanced Gifts

Also announced Thursday was the appointment of Bill Banks, automobile dealer, as head of the advance gifts committee.

The announcement was made by Lloyd K. Carraway, chairman of the drive, who also listed the other following departmental heads:

W. H. Norwood, superintendent of schools, chairman of the special groups division.

J. C. Watson, county school superintendent, chairman of the county and rural divisions;

Financial Report

Figures compiled by the chapter from the annual audit show $9,280 needed during 1948. Deducted from this is $1,925.32 in an account for emergency financial assistance and disaster relief funds now on hand, leaving the $7,354.68 to be raised as this chapter's operating expenses.

The following budget requirements were listed:

Salaries	$4,230.00
Net financial assistance..	1,500.00
Service Expenditures telephone, telegram, postage, transportation, etc.) ...	600.00
First Aid	250.00
Water Safety	100.00
Service Veterans Hospitals	350.00
Fund Campaign Expenses.	250.00
Chapter Administration rent utilities, janitor, training institutes)	1,750.00
Contingencies	250.00

It also was announced at drive headquarters that the committee headed by Banks would launch their part of the drive on Feb. 23, a week before the general solicitation is started.

Wallace, Southern Revolt Worrying Democrat Leaders

BY HAL COOPER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The Democratic National Committee raised an out and out distress signal today in the face of the Henry A. Wallace third party drive.

Chairman J. Howard McGrath said he hopes Wallace will "realize" that he can accomplish nothing but "the defeat of the Democratic party's program of political liberalism in 1948."

McGrath virtually appealed for abandonment of the Wallace campaign in a radio speech last night.

Wallace Big Danger.

The address followed McGrath's frank admission that the victory of a Wallace-backed candidate in Tuesday's New York congressional election is a big danger sign for the Democrats.

Political Dispute Between Demos And South Stirred

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Sen. J. Howard McGrath thinks his conference with five southern governors Monday will be useless, the Memphis Commercial Appeal said today.

Senator McGrath said he "didn't see what purpose the southern governors hoped to accomplish" and that for the "President to back up on his proposals now would be po-

MANY ISSUES TO BE TAKEN UP BY SOLONS IN BURST OF SPEED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—(AP)—Bills to extend rent control and to renew the government's power to ration grain to whisky makers made progress in congress today.

The house rules committee cleared the way for a vote by the house next week on a measure which would continue rent controls through March 31. The present rent control law expires Feb. 29.

The senate banking committee has recommended a 14 months extension, but the senate itself has not yet acted. The final measure may be a compromise between the senate and the house.

Grain Ration Favored

The bill to reimpose grain rationing on distillers cleared a senate banking subcommittee 4 to 0. The senators recommended that the liquor makers be alloted not less than 2,500,000 bushels of grain a month. They now are using more than 6,000,000 bushels, according to the agriculture department.

In an action expected to have repercussions in the run-off election for Governor of Louisiana, the house rules committee ordered an investigation of the income tax returns of some leading Louisiana politicians. The action is subject to approval by the house.

Other committees of the house were busy too.

Red Charge Heard

A subcommittee of the committee on un-American activities heard George M. Dimitrov, anti-Communist refugee from Bulgaria, testify that "America is Communist target No. 1."

The house ofreign affairs committee listened to Wayne Taylor of the committee for economic development urge adoption of the European recovery plan. Taylor said the program should be adequate—that "a half-hearted program is likely to be worse than useless."

Meanwhile congressional leaders have decided it is time to get down to passing laws.

Program Outlined

House Republican Leader Halleck (Ind) and Speaker Martin (Mass) went into a huddle and came up with a law-making program they say will keep congress occupied well into the summer.

Halleck told newsmen the house

Chilean President Explains Stand On Antarctic Claims

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Chilean President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla headed home today after formally setting up two military bases in disputed Antarctic territory—which he called a "land of tomorrow."

The bases were established at Chilean weather stations in defiance of long-time British claims, recently reiterated.

Gonzalez inaugurated the first on Tuesday at the weather station at Port Sovereignty on Greenwich Island in the South Shetlands, some 500 miles south of the southern tip of South America.

Second Station.

He dedicated the second yesterday at another weather station, 60 miles to the south, on a peninsula of the Antarctic continent known to Chile as O'Higgins Land and to Great Britain as Graham Land. Bernardo O'Higgins was the first chief of state of independent Chile.

Dispatches to this Chilean capital told of the ceremony. The President said his presence was "one more confirmation of Chile's sovereignty over the extreme south of its national soil." He called the land below South America Chile's by right of "history, geography and law." He said she claimed it by inheritance from the Spanish crown, nearness and occupation.

Gonzalez, whose speech was made public here, ended up by toasting "this land of tomorrow."

British Reply.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The foreign office said today maintenance of British bases near the Antarctic constitutes neither aggression nor provocation.

The statement came as Britain's answer to a speech yesterday by Chilean President Gonzalez Videla photesting against "aggression and armed violence" by "worn our imperialisms."

Arabs To Boycott U.S., Other Lands

CAIRO, Feb. 19.—(AP)—An Arab League source said today the League's political committee had decided on an economic boycott of the United States and other nations supporting the partition of Palestine.

The informant said the boycott will not be put in effect before a decision is reached on sending an international police force to Palestine.

Shawat Shukair, Lebanese member of the League's military committee, arrived last night. He was reported to have been touring European countries to buy arms for the Arab fight against partition.

Income Taxes Of Louisiana Leaders Eyed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A move for congressional investigation of income tax returns of some Louisiana politicians today appeared until at least early next week.

That investigation and report is impossible before the Louisiana gubernatorial primary election. Two candidates for governor among the individuals it is proposed to investigate.

The developments came in this order:

First, the house rules committee approved a resolution calling for the investigation. This sent the resolution to the house floor.

When the house met, Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana told it there could be no vote today.

The delay, Halleck explained, was caused by several factors: The death of Rep. Robinson (R-Ky) and insistence of Rep. Herbert (D-La) opponent of the investigation, that there be a roll call vote on the resolution.

Since the house is under a "gentleman's agreement" that there will be no controversial legislation taken up before next week, Halleck said the tax investigation could not be considered today.

The rules committee's action came after a spirited session during which charges of "stool pigeon" and "informer" flew hot and fast.

The investigation would be made by a special seven-man committee under terms of the resolution.

It was requested by Reps. Dirksen (R-Ill) and Domengeaux (D-La). Domengeaux has charged that Earl K. Long, a candidate for governor in next Tuesday's Democratic run-off primary, was involved in an income tax fraud case.

Domengeaux is supporting Sam Jones in next week's election.

Rep. Herbert (D-La), a backer of Long, supported the proposal for an investigation and suggested that it cover also the tax returns of Jones and other Louisiana politicians.

Investigation Of Vote Frauds In Missouri Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A senate investigation of Democratic vote fraud charges in President Truman's own Missouri stamping grounds showed new signs of life today.

The charges arose in connection with a primary in the Fifth Missouri congressional district in 1946.

These were the developments today:

1. A judiciary subcommittee prepared to question the FBI man who handled the case. He now is a federal judgeship nominees.

2. Senator Kem predicted that a new investigating committee will take a look at how the justice department dealt with alleged voting irregularities in Kansas City precincts. Kem claims the department "whitewashed" the case.

A grand jury indicted 72 persons, but 66 were freed last Jan. 28 after ballots held for evidence were stolen. The other six are awaiting trial.

The Fifth is not President Truman's own congressional district, but he took a hand in the 1946 campaign. He endorsed Enos Axtell for the nomination over Rep. Roger Slaughter. Axtell defeated Slaughter but lost the election to Republican Albert L. Reeves, Jr.

Meat Strike Voted.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The CIO United Packinghouse Workers of America today voted a strike at the nation's leading meat packing plants.

The unions' strike strategy committee authorized the walkout after a 20 to 1 vote by some 100,000 members in favor of a walkout.

Attorney General Called To Testify On Paroles Of Ex-Capone Gangsters

CHICAGO, Feb. 19—(AP)—A congressional sub-committee which is investigating the paroles of four former Capone gangsters plans to summon Attorney General Tom Clark at a witness.

Clark will be called when the group returns to Washington, Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich), chairman, said yesterday at the conclusion of yesterday's hearing here.

"We want to ask him on what team he's playing," Hoffman said.

Hoffman said the committee had received evidence that the four former Capone hoodlums would not have been granted paroles if the attorney general's department had not withdraw a second indictment against them.

The chairman and Rep. Busbey (R-Ill) also said that the FBI, a branch of the department of justice, "constantly thwarted" the committee's efforts to obtain the full FBI report on the paroles.

In Washington, the justice department said the dismissal of the second indictment followed "long established policy and practice" on indictments "growing out of a common set of facts."

The four granted paroles last August after serving one-third of their 10-year sentences are Louis (Little New York) Campagna, Philip D'Andrea, Paul the waiter) Rica and Charles (Cherry Nose) Gioe. They were sentenced to 10-year terms in Federal prison after being convicted of extorting more than $1,000,000 from the Motion Picture Industry.

Panel To Name Executive Group For Centennial Celebration Appointed

The executive committee of the Corsicana Centennial Commission—the group that will do the work—will be named by a five-member committee selected Wednesday night at a meeting held at the city hall.

About 35 of the 100 members of the commission attended the session but little was accomplished other than a discussion of organization.

Mayor Hubert T. Braselton named the committee headed by Harry M. Montgomery, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and charged with selecting the executive group.

Other members are Mrs. Ballard George, Pat McKie, Louis Wolens and Mrs. L. S. Cooper.

The group conferred briefly and decided to meet at the chamber's office at 3:30 p. m. Friday. Whether the meeting will be a preliminary discussion, or a final parley on selection of the executive group was not announced.

The embryonic celebration came in for some discussion. Mayor Braselton asked for suggestions as to the nature of the fete, and received a few.

Some wanted the celebration set in April, and others insisted a proper observance could not be successfully worked out in less than six months. There was a faint suggestion that the observance be tied in with the annual Navarro County Fair.

Nothing concrete was done regarding the nature of the celebration, those present holding it would be better to perfect organization of the smaller group first.

The executive committee, when named, will be charged with responsibility of the celebration marking Corsicana's 100th birthday, and the many attending details, such as dates, finances, nature of events and length of the observance.

Like You, Railroad Thinks Federal Taxes On Its Income Are Too High

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(AP)—So you think your taxes are high?

Well, brother, move over. You have company.

The Missouri Pacific Lines allows as how its tax bill has gone up 155 percent since 1929, while its traffic was only 56 percent better, its gross operating revenue 53 percent up, and its gross operating expenses 59 percent higher.

In 1929 the railroad shelled out $7,557,835 to tax collectors. Last year the take was $19,006,961. The railroad says that's one reason

The dressmakers are singing the blues. Down in the cloak and suit district they say their business is "no good." The slump is worst in the lowest priced dress industry, they say, and altogether some 10,000 dressmakers are either out of work or on a part-time basis. They blame high fabric prices, buyer resistance and even the bad winter weather.

Narrow Change Rule In Most Markets Today

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A handful of commodities managed to cling to slight gains today as all markets tossed around nervously.

Wheat prices were above the previous close when the Chicago pits wound up for the day but only by 3-4 to 2 1-2 cents a bushel.

Corn ranged from 1 1-2 cents below yesterday's close to 2 cents higher. Oats were down a similar amount to 5-8 of a cent higher.

Cotton slid 85 cents to $1.40 a bale lower as aggressive sales pushed prices down late in the session.

Range Narrow.

A revision in the methods of selling semi-finished steel worked out to a net price rise of nearly $5 a ton.

Stocks made feeble attempts to push ahead. A few selected issues made the grade but there were many leaders in the loss column at the close.

Commodity markets jumped around all during the day. Prices reacted rapidly but never in a very wide range.

Lard Eases Off.

Lard eased off less than a cent after going ahead by a similary small margin. Hides and cottonseed oil were down by small amounts. Stocks were irregular in a very quiet New York market but light investing propped some individual issues.

Wholesale butter prices fell as much as 5 1-2 cents a pound both at New York and Chicago. Retail outlets set contradictory prices.

New York chains increased butter prices five cents a pound to 89 cents, but a Chicago chain cut its retail tags 6 cents to 83.

Two chains at New York reduced some meats and poultry.

A business bulletin survey indicated the typical New York City housewife is able now to feed a family of five at a weekly cost of $31.15 against $35 a month ago.

Uncertainty Dominates.

Uncertainty and caution appeared to dominate consumers, storekeepers and traders.

The nation's markets reflected this yesterday. The commodity exchanges were nervous. Only 610,000 shares were traded on the New York Stock Exchange in the quietest session since last September.

The department of agriculture said the supply of livestock on farms on Jan. 1 was the lowest since 1939.

Since fewer cattle mean less need for feed, the news of the short supply brought a temporary slump in grains in the Chicago pits.

Weather Unfavorable.

Traders later received advices

Study of Truman's Chinese Aid Plan Due In Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—President Truman's plan to give China a $570,000,000 economic shot in the arm raised a cry of too little and too late in Congress today.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) said the civil strife in China has passed the point where "mere economic help" will be enough.

Bridges is chairman of the senate appropriations committee which will have a big say over how much money China is to get and how it is to be spent.

The house foreign affairs committee announced that it will start hearings on the subject tomorrow. The committee is still working on European recovery legislation, but plans to start writing a foreign aid bill or bills, by March 2.

The senate foreign relations committee has just finished work on a $5,300,000,000 Marshall Plan measure for Europe. But there was no immediate word wher it will take up the China matter.

ASSEMBLY TOLD LAND "MAY BLOW UP" IF ZONES NOT UNITED

YEAR-ROUND PANEL IS WARNED MOVE VITAL; REDS BLOCK PROBE

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The United Nations Little Assembly was warned today "Korea may blow up" of the U. N. fails to unite the north and south.

The warning was made by K. P. S. Menon of India, chairman of the U. N. Korean mission. Menon flew here from Seoul to ask the Little Assembly for instructions after Russia refused to admit the commission to Soviet-occupied Northern Korea.

Menon quoted Korean leaders as saying "the United Nations is our last hope."

Elections Not Held.

Menon told the Little Assembly the commission had found it impossible to carry out the U. N. Assembly's instructions to hold National elections. This resulted from Russia's attitude of non-cooperation, he said.

Russia and the five other Slav countries were not present. They are boycotting this new U. N. agency.

Menon said some members of the commission were doubtful whether the U. N. should attempt to hold separate elections in the U. S. zone of Southern Korea.

Red Rule Claimed.

A high American official announced in Seoul Monday that the Russians had set up a puppet government in the north.

Menon presents these alternatives from the commission:

1—The commission could go ahead and hold elections in Southern Korea, occupied by the United States, and set up a government for all of Korea in the south. Two-thirds of the Koreans live in the southern zone.

Union Needed.

2—The commission could hold South Korean elections for the purpose of constituting a provisional government for that zone alone.

3—The commission could explore other possibilities for a union of the north and south.

Menon reported that the commission had not agreed on a specific recommendation and was seeking instructions from the Little Assembly.

Russia Completes Treaties To Halt All 'Imperialism'

BY EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Russia has forged the last link in a chain of treaties intended as a barrier against the "imperialistic states," Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov announced last night.

Molotov spoke after the signing of a Soviet-Hungarian friendship and mutual assistance treaty.

Russia now has, he said, "pacts of friendship and mutual assistance with all states on its western frontier — from the Black Sea to the Baltic."

He said the treaties were concluded in "conformity with the aims and principles of the United Nations organization."

Replying to Molotov, Lajos Dinnyes, Hungarian premier, said his people now enjoy, for the first time in history "the opportunity of cooperating with a great power, the Soviet Union, which disinterestedly and without ulterior motives, is helping us to security and independence."

Observers in Moscow said the Russian-Hungarian agreement prevented possible participation by Hungary in the Marshall Plan or in any other Western European union of nations.

Russia also concluded trade pacts last night with Belgium and Luxembourg.

It was reported here that the Finnish parliament has adopted a government proposal for approval of a Soviet-Finnish trade treaty.

Plot To Destroy Government Seen

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A Red formula for destruction of the U. S. Government was outlined by a former Communist party official yesterday at a deportation hearing.

George Hewitt, a negro, testifying at an immigration department hearing on a Greek-American Newspaperman, said he once heard Premier Joseph Stalin say the United States was "a main citadel of capitalism that must be destroyed."

Stalin made the statement in Moscow in 1932 in the presence of Earl Browder, then secretary-general of the party in this country, and Browder later "repeated" the Stalin declaration in the United States, the witness said.

Hewitt was asked how destruction of the U. S. Government was to be accomplished, and he replied:

"By following the lesson of the Russian revolution in which everyday demands of the masses were catered to by the party x x x in which every grievance served as a brick to consolidate the masses until the masses became sufficient in number to storm machinery of the capitalist state and set up their own form of government."

Judge A. P. Mays Is Not Candidate For Reelection

A. P. Mays, Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District court here since July 1, 1943, announced Thursday afternoon he is retiring from the judgeship at the end of his present term, Jan. 1, 1949, and will not seek re-electiton in the approaching Democratic primaries and general election.

Appointed July 1, 1943, by Coke R. Stevenson, then governor to fill the unexpired term of Wayne R. Howell who resigned to become assistant general counsel for the MKT Railroad, Mays was elected to a four-year term without opposition in the 1944 primaries and elections.

No one else has intimated he would seek the office, and attorneys here said no one would have opposed Mays for re-election.

Mays, a native of Corsicana, served four years as Navarro county judge during the oil boom in the early 1920s.

"Because of my desire to return to private practice of law, I do not intend to seek re-election as district judge," Judge Mays stated.

Reelection Sought By Pair Of Texas State Officials

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 19—(AP)—Two more state officials had taken their places at the starting post today for next summer's political race.

Railroad Commissioner William J. (Bill) Murray Jr., of Houston and State Superintendent of Public Instruction L. A. Woods announced their candidacies yesterday.

Both will seek return to their present posts.

Murray, 33, took office last January by appointment on Beauford

Texas Weather To Be Cool, Not Cold

By The Associated Press.

Weather news continues to be good news in Texas.

Not a single state point reported overnight temperatures near the freezing mark today. Like yesterday, there were some clouds in East Texas with generally fair skies in the west.

Yesterday Presidio had a maximum of 92—the warmest temperature reported in the state so far this year, and the highest temperature at the time in the nation.

Some cool air is expected to move into North Texas late in the day, generating showers. But the U. S. Weather Bureau in Dallas said it won't be anything like a bona fide cold wave.

Vicious Nazi Field Marshal Gets Life

NUERNBERG, Germany, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Field Marshal Wilhelm List, whose German armies killed hostages by the hundreds, was sentenced today to life imprisonment.

Seven Nazi generals tried with him also were convicted of war crimes. They drew sentences ranging from seven years to life. Two generals were acquitted.

The American war crimes court ruled that some of the 63,000 killings for which the group was held responsible were plain murder.

Hostages Slain.

It added that hostages may be slain by an occupation force to maintain order under international law. This may be done, however, only if the individuals selected for death bear some relation to the crime committed against the occupation forces, the court ruled. In most cases there was no such relation.

The court held that the right to execute hostages has been recognized by many nations as the only way an occupying army can protect itself against partisan attacks.

The defendants were charged with responsibility for killing hostages in Greece, Yugoslavia and Albania. The court lashed Gen. Helmuth Felmy—who received a 15-year sentence—as being responsible for calculated, cold-blooded murder of infants and aged.

Not "Prisoners."

But the court ruled that most of the partisans who married Germans in the Balkans "failed to comply with the rules of war," and thus were not entitled to be treated as prisoners of war with the protection of international law.

The court deplored the "complete failure on the part of the nations of the world" to outlaw the killing of members of a conquered population.

The judgment was read by Judge Charles F. Wennerstrum, a justice of the Iowa supreme court. Some lawyers felt the decision might have bearing in the futire on the guerrilla fighting in Greece.

Sentences Passed.

With the hostage ruling as a preamble, the court meted out these sentences:

List, a grim-lipped Bavarian of the old German officers' school, life imprisonment.

Gen. Walter Kuntze, a List army group commander, life.

Gen. Lothar Rendulic, chief of the Second Panzer army, 20 years.

Gen. Wilhelm Speidel, 20 ytars.

Gen. Hubert Lanz, 12 years.

Gen. Felmy, 15 years.

Gen. Ernst von Leyser, 10 years

Gen Ernst Dehner, seven years.

Three Acquitted.

Acquitted were:

Gen. Hermann Foertsch, chief of the 12th army staff.

Maj. Gen. Kurt von Geitner, chief of staff in Serbia.

Field Marshal Maximilian von Weichs was removed from the trial recently because of a heart ailment. Another defendant, Maj. Gen. Franz Boehme, killed himself last July.

The charges against all the defendants were war crimes and crimes against humanity.

In the case of Felmy, an air force commander in Southern Greece, the court used its strongest language. He was held responsible for the razing of the Greek village of Kilesura in which nine infants, six children under two and 72 children under 15, as well as a number of aged persons, were killed.

In the trial, the records showed that List's armies killed a hundred Serbs or Greeks for each German soldier killed by partisans, and at least 50 for each Nazi wounded.

WORLD'S MOST POWERFUL ORGANIZATION IS CHURCH

How It Grew and How It Spreads—Supernatural Power For Daily Living—The Author's Experiences Around the World in Churches of Many Forms and Names

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

As a world-traveled newspaper man I could not be a narrow denominationalist. For I have seen the Church in many lands under many names and forms of organization. I have worshipped in a wide variety of Protestant Churches, in Roman Catholic churches, including St. Peter's in Rome and St. Stephens in Vienna; in Westminster Abbey, London, in Nofre Dame in Paris; in Greek Churches and Armenian Churches, in Coptic Churches, in the Mormon Tabernacle, and in many houses of worship that did not bear the Christian name. I have fellowshipped in worship with Japanese Christians, Korean Christians, Chinese Christians, Indian Christians, Russian Christians; and all were one in spirit in loyalty to our common Father.

There is real significance to this personal experience. For one thing, incidentally, it keeps me from being a narroy denominationalist. I count myself brother to all who name the name of Christ. We to whom the Church means a village edifice and congregation are helped by a wider sweep of vision and by a realization that these local bodies are part of a really world-wide movement. There is no section of earth, except possibly Tibet, wherein Christians are not to be found. Forms of worship differ, but the worship is the same.

Biggest and Best

No other organization on earth —aye, and no nation—can claim the number of adherents who give allegiance to Jesus Christ. Ours is a world-wide Church, enjoying, since the war, a world-wide growth as well as a world-wide ministry. It was moving to hear Drew Pearson, in a description of the Friendship Train, tell how so many givers announced that it was because of their Christian faith that they were accepting all mankind as brothers.

To even the most casual observer, it is apparent that there is a drift toward Christian unity. And unity should be stressed more than union. Every Christian should recognize every other Christian as a brother with whom to pursue common ends. The unity of the Spirit is the bond of peace. Formal union will come later.

Where the Church is unready for it, union projects often result in greater disunion and unbrotherliness. It should be a cardinal life-principle with every one of us to recognize fellow Christians as fellow Christians, however much they may differ in denominational procedure. We may be as diverse as the congregation to which Peter preached his great sermon; and yet we may come in the same unity to a new sense of our allegiance to God.

The Highest Allegiance

As a matter of fact, it should mean more to a person that he is a Christian than that he is a Democrat or a Republican or a white man or a yellow man or a black man. God has his saints in all colors and kinds.

This Lesson affords a good occasion to meditate upon the total size and distinction of the Church throughout the ages. Minds given to curious speculations have often wondered how there could be room in the universe for all the dead who have died in the Lord; Yet today the astronomers come forward with news of stars incomprehensibly great—Betelgeuse, for instance, has a diameter of two hundred and seventy million miles (270,000,000); Alpha and Hercules are even larger. The Father's universe has "many mansions."

When Communism Failed

In their enthusiasm over Peter's message, and over the descent of the Spirit, that first great congregation in Jerusalem went in strongly for what is sometimes called the "social Gospel." In other words, they tried out communism, having all things in common—a communism more real than anything that Russia has ever known.

But the scheme did not work. Ere long we find Paul taking up a collection for the Christians in Jerusalem, For Christianity is more than a new social device. It is the Kingdom of Heaven, with God upon the throne.

I view with distress the decline of the mid-week prayer meetings, which were scenes of personal testimony and of fellowship and of a realized solidarity. A first step for many a dormant church would be to restore, with brains and with consecration, its old fashioned mid-week prayer meeting.

Similarly, the good old practice of grace before meat, is falling into disuse. It should characterize every Christian home. Wise parents make this the occasion for a simple form of family worship.

Today we belong to the Church Militant. Someday we shall be members of the Church Triumphant, wherein Christ is crowned and his servants serve Him in perfect freedom.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS ANN STEWARD TO EARL WADDELL ANNOUNCED IN FAIRFIELD

FAIRFIELD, Feb. 17 —(Spl)— Mrs. H. B. Steward announced the engagement of her daughter, Ann, to Earl Waddell of Hempstead at a coffee Saturday morning, given at the lovely ranch-style home of Mr. and Mrs. Steward near Fairfield. The wedding will be solemnized March 27, at high noon at the Methodist Church in Fairfield, the Rev. Warren Hall of Crockett reading the service.

Over one hundred guests attended the affair Saturday. Receiving with the hostess and the bride-elect was Miss Steward's grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Steward, Sr., and the bridegroom-to-be's mother and sister, Mrs. Gordon Waddell and Miss Betty Waddell of Hempstead.

Others in the house party were Mrs. R. W. Williford, Mrs. C. C. Collins, Mrs. Jerry Steward, Mrs. Jack Crawford, Mrs. Hugh Reed, Mrs. Hugh Reed, Jr., Mrs. W. W. Steward, Jr., Mrs. Carl Williford, Mrs. C. C. Linnenburg, Mrs. Aubrey Bass, Mrs. Roger David Steward, Mrs. John Sloan and Miss Joan Sloan of Dallas, Mrs. Glynn Riley and Mrs. George D. Stubbs of Wortham.

Carrying out the Valentine theme the announcement of the coming marriage was made by a double-heart arrangement of lace, white carnations and fluted red tulle placed in front of the mirrored wall over the mantle in the living room. The hearts bore pictures of the couple, and beneath was the inscription artfully done in plastic letters: "Ann-Earl, March 27." Bowls of white carnations, white stock, and candytuft completed the floral decoration of the room.

The guest book, marked with a shower bouquet of white carnations and satin ribbon streamers, was presided over by Mrs. Roger David Steward. The dining room table was laid with a madeira cloth, centered with exquisite arrangement of shell-pink carnations, and crystal candelabra with tall shell-pink tapers. The buffet was decorated with a large silver bowl of carnations of the same delicate pink.

The bride-elect has attended school at Trinity University at San Antonio, and Sam Houston State Teachers' College at Huntsville. She attended high school at Austin and Fairfield, and spent the summers at Camp Waldemar near Kerrville, where she excelled in many activities. Mr. Waddell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Waddell of Hempstead, and is a student at A. and M. College. He served with the Marine Air Corps during the war.

NAVARRO COUNTY RED CROSS QUOTA $2,938 HIGHER THAN IN 1947

Navarro county residents will be asked to contribute $2938 more to the American Red Cross this year than in 1947, it was learned Tuesday as the 1948 quota of $13,995 was announced.

Simultaneously, J. N. Garrity, chapter chairman, announced the appointment of Lloyd K. Carraway, insurance agent, as drive chairman. Carraway conducted the 1947 campaign, raising the $11,017 quota.

Drive in March.

The campaign will be held during March.

Officials said the increase could be charged to the fact that the local chapter has had "to use its surplus funds during the past two years, and therefore did not have a surplus to apply against its budget for the coming year."

Mrs. Mary Simpson, executive secretary, said the budget figure was not increased by national Red Cross headquarters, as was the case in a number of Texas cities, but was the total approved by the local officials.

Rising Costs Blamed.

Carraway planned to announce personnel of the 1948 campaign within the next few days.

"Today's abnormal economic conditions with ever-rising costs have affected the Red Cross as they have everybody else," local chapter officials said in a prepared statement. "The organization's expenses have doubled just as they have doubled for business and the average family. In other words, far greater sums are required to do an equal job. The dollar has shrunk, but human needs have not."

Mrs. Simpson said $6,600 of this year's quota would remain here.

Routine Business Occupies Session Of School Board

Routine matters occupied the Corsicana board of education at its regular session Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Senior High school building.

Among entertainments and programs slated at the school auditoriums with in the near future, as announced to the board by Superintendent W. H. Norwood, will be the band party at the Junior High school gymnasium Feb. 28, under the auspices of the band parents; a Firestone Farmer Show at the Senior High auditorium, March 8, and a Rosetta Thorpe program Thursday, Feb. 26, at the Jackson auditorium.

Teacher Resigns.

Mrs. Patty Harris George has resigned as the fifth grade and music teacher at the Lee school, and Jimmie Ruth Thompson has been named as teacher.

The superintendent was authorized to seek another bus driver that meets the local requirements, prior to the music festivals in Dallas and Waco later in the year when three buses will be required to transport local students. Two former drivers here do not meet the requirements and are not to be used again. One is color blind and the other is blind in one eye. The two regular drivers meet the requirements.

During the discussions relative to the old wooden buildings at the Jackson campus, it was decided to keep the buildings for future use and not dispose of them.

Shop equipment at Jackson High costing $1,184.82, has been paid for by the Navarro Community Foundation, and other items are to be purchased later by this organization.

To Give School Site.

Supt. Norwood said that a person interested in putting in an extensive new addition in the northwest area recently annexed by the municipality, has indicated he plans to donate four acres in the sub-division as a site for a school when the need arises, with provisions that it reverts to the original grantor in the event it is not used for school purposes, etc. The area involved in the extension is now in litigation.

Members of the board indicated they will favor the schools participating in the Corsicana Centennial celebrations and may conduct patriotic programs in April in the schools.

Dr. Pepper and Coca-Cola will be allowed to furnish the school textbook covers for the 1948-1949 school session.

Orders School Coal.

Supt. Norwood advised the board he had ordered 200 tons of coal for the ensuing year He said that during the recent blizzards the buildings were warm, that little interruption in school work was noted, and illness among students was practically non-existent during the period.

The Wm. B Travis PTA will sponsor an old fiddlers' and square dance program at the Senior High school auditorium March 19, Supt. Norwood stated.

According to the finanical report made, embracing that period from Sept. 1 to Feb. 1, expenditures have amounted to $159,526.46 of an estimated budget of $332,430, leaving unexpended $172,903.54. The average percent attendance during the fall semester among the white students was 93.7 and that of negroes 92.7.

English Failures.

English is the subject causing the most failures in Junior High with 49 of 113 failures in that class. English is also the most difficult in Senior High school, with 40 closely pressed by social science and mathematics with 38 each. The English enrollment in the senior high is much larger, however, than the other subjects mentioned, although that condition is not found in the Junior High.

Present included Mrs. H. R. Stroube, president; B. W. Woolley, Mrs. F. A. Pierce, Dr. W. K. Logsdon, Dovie L. West and Supt. Norwood. Absent were R L. Wheelock and R. R. Brown.

Former Corsicanan Dies In Dallas

Mrs. Lee Bradford, the former Alice Webb of this city, died at her home in Dallas on Monday and funeral services were held from the George A. Brewer Funeral Home in Dallas Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Bradford is survived by her husband and four children, Carolyn, Danny, Blenda and Jimmy; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Webb, and a brother, Jeff Webb, of Corsicana; four sisters, Mrs. Henry Scoggins of Corsicana, Mrs. Bernice Fuller of Dallas; Mrs. Dee Page of Ripon, Calif., and Mrs. H. T. Mix of Amarillo.

Student Aid Positions

Applications are being accepted now for student aid positions by the executive secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for scientific and technical personnel of the Potomac River Naval Command, building 37, Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D. C., and for patient examiner positions by the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

The positions to be filled are located in Washington, D. C., and nearby Virginia and Maryland.

Announcements and application forms may be obtained from the commission's local secretary, W. C. Galloway, located at the Corsicana postoffice.

Rev. N. R. Stone, Preacher, Builder, Observed 80th Birthday Thursday

By BOB CAMPBELL
Daily Sun Staff

Some people serve God with a sermon.

And some do it with a song.

There are yet others who use a hammer.

The Rev. N. R. Stone, who thinks maybe he has about accomplished all the jobs God set out for him, has used all three.

And he has put particular emphasis on the hammer.

He can preach to you, or make a two-by-four jibe. It's all in the Lord's work, and it's all the same to him.

Birthday Thursday

The Rev. Mr. Stone had a birthday Thursray. He was 80, and can look back on more than 50 years of service in the Methodist church.

The hammer, now. He believes in it as devoutly as he believes in world religion. He thinks the song of the saw can go a long way toward making the music for the song of The Saviour.

Preached and Built

For more than 50 years before he retired in 1939, he was a Methodist church worker. He preached. And he built. He preached and he repaired. When he wasn't preaching, he was hammering. If there was a church, he repaired it and added to it, always leaning sprightly on a keg of nails. If the parsonage needed repairing, he repaired it. If there wasn't any parsonage, he built one.

Always there was the Bible and the timber, working side by side.

If the Rev. Stone was as good a preacher as he is a carpenter, then the world is better off to have had him around.

Built Home

When he retired in 1939 and moved to Corsicana from Denver, he bought a house at 702 North Twenty-Sixth St. He did some repair work, but it was too big. Finally, about three years ago, he built one by himself. One he really liked, at 704 North Twenty-Sixth St.

The Rev. Stone was born in Cooper County, Mo. in 1868. He was a farm boy. He began teaching while in his teens. At 16 he was superintendent of a Sunday school. At 20 he was licensed to preach.

HANDY WITH SAW

. . . "I lift up my eyes to the hills. . .

His ministry included service in Missouri, Tennessee, Texas and Colorado. He was pastor of the First Methodist Church of Pueblo, Colo. in 1917, and is still a member of the Colorado conference.

He holds AM, PhD and LD degrees.

He built what is now the South McKinney Methodist church, and for 10 years was president of the McKinney Business College, which he organized.

Two Children

His wife is still living, as are two children, Mrs. T. L. Carlisle of Corsicana and P. G. Stone of San Diego.

At 80—as any man at 80 must—Rev. Stone has a philosophy. It concerns, as perhaps it should, work.

"I realize God had work for me to do for many years, but today it seems near its fulfillment, and now I lift up my eyes to the hills from whence cometh help. . . ."

Baptist Banquet Scheduled Here Friday Evening

An attendance of 265 representatives from 10 of the churches embraced in Corsicana Baptist Association is reported for the training courses being held each night this week at the First Baptist church here. Bad road conditions have prevented some churches being represented, it was stated.

The associational-wide school will be closed Friday night with a banquet at the First Baptist church. Dr. J. M. Bradford, pastor of the First Baptist church, Lufkin, will be the principal speaker.

The invocation will be given by Dr. J. J. Sheppard of Frost, with the benediction slated by Rev. M. O. Check, Waco, district 14 missionary.

Recognition of awards will be given by Mrs. Wm. Bivin, Corsicana, superintendent, with plans for training to be given by Wm. Bivin, superintendent of training.

Rites For Infant Tuesday Morning

Nancy Ella Gooch, two-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaston T. Gooch, 1603 Woodlawn, died at the Navarro Clinic Monday.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from the Corley Funeral Chapel. Burial was at Farmersville, Texas. Th rites were conducted by Rev. J. B. Sharp of Farmersville and Rev. J. Morris Bailey, pastor of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church.

Surviving are the parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gooch, Farmersville, and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gilbert, Carbon, Texas.

Athens Rites For James W. Crook

Funeral services for James William (Uncle Jim) Crook, who died Monday, were held Tuesday afternoon in Athens with burial in the Ash cemetery.

Native of Georgia, he moved to Texas in 1874.

Surviving are his wife, Athens; two brothers, two sisters and other relatives. One brother, J. A. Crook, resides in Wortham.

Notice Woodmen:

Regular meeting this week—Saturday night.

Former Corsicanans Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary Here Sunday

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Jordan of Texas City, formerly of Corsicana, was celebrated Sunday with an open house at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Tekell, 1712 Maplewood.

Friends and relatives were received from 2 to 4 o'clock and were served coffee and wedding cake. The three-tiered cake was appropriately decorated to carry out the Golden Wedding Anniversary theme. Golden daffodils and roses were used as a center piece and flowers in golden shades were placed at various points throughout the home.

Mrs. Frank Merrell and Mrs. Frank Ware attended the refreshment table along with Mrs. T. L. Tyson and Mrs. Roy Bristow. Background music was played by Mrs. S. K. Brietz and Miss Exa Claire Love. Miss Barbara Higdon sang several old love songs.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jordan, and Roland, Jr., Texas City; Miss Frances Jordan, Alexandria, La.; Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Jordan, and Irwin, Jr., Miss Lillie Smith, all of Houston; Rev. Gene Miller Williams, Waco; Miss Dorothy Flew, Yoakum; Miss Carolyn Jordan, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris, Kaufman; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harris, Quitman; Mr. and Mrs. W. Wesley Harris, and son, Majors, Dallas; Miss Elizabeth Church, Dallas, and Mrs. R. H. Mattson, Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. E. B. Dawson of Dawson will be in Corsicana on Friday to attend a luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Spruill honoring Mrs. H. B. McElroy who is leaving for Texas City at an early date.

EUROPE CO-OPERATES

An organization which has been working for nine months on plans to help implement the Marshall program is described by Simon Bourgin, writing to the Chicago News from Switzerland, where initiative for it originated. He says:

"For the first time since 1939 when peacetime business expansion was halted, European free enterprise is throwing off its inertia and undertaking a grand-scale effort to organize recovery along purely business lines."

The effort is to be financed by important banks and industrial combinations in France, Holland, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland and Germany. The participants have large reserves of Swiss francs, and Swiss banks have a huge amount of idle capital. These funds, together with American capital supplied under the Marshall Plan, will be used in reconstructiton projects in several countries. Highways, factories, canals, bridges and harbors such as those of Marseilles and Rotterdam are prospective aims of these carefully thought-out plans.

There is very little doubt that the real salvation of Europe lies in the hands of enlightened business leadership. Its objects are such as can be understood by the man in the street: peace, plenty, prosperity. Political ideologies in Europe are confused and divergent. The people know only that they need food, clothing, and shelter. With the combined resources of the Marshall program and that outlined in Zurich, these needs may be filled and the future made secure.

THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

The Anti-Saloon League is no more. Its name has been changed to the Temperance League. While the new title is broader and perhaps gives a truer idea of the League's purpose, it would never have been adopted without a feeling that the old name had exhausted its usefulness. It suggested the 18th Amendment and Wayne B. Wheeler, the powerful head who put it over. Wheeler died in 1927, and the prohibition amendment six years later. Since then local option elections have effected gains in dry territory, but not enough to make a revival of national prohibition seem a practical cause.

Temperance is more than mere opposition to saloons, and is a cause to which no one can object. The new name of the old organization invites co-operation from all opponents of drinking to excess, wets as well as drys.

THE U. S. MAIL

Uncle Sam lost 400 million dollars during the last fiscal year picking up and distributing your mail. That's quite a sum, even for the government to drop. A House committee, headed by E. H. Rees of Kansas, authorized an efficiency survey by a private concern of a typical American city's postal set-up.

Cleveland, O., was selected. Its post office employs 3,500 persons and during the month of December, 1947, it handled 25 million pieces of mail of all sorts. It is supposed to have "average facilities" and through studying it a yardstick can be set for spotting out-moded procedures and improving urban service throughout the country. Also, Congress hopes, costs can be cut.

The suspicion within the public mind has grown of late that mail service is not what it used to be. In some areas this is directly traceable to reduction of train service, which in turn reflects the decreased vitality of certain railroads. On the other hand it must be remembered that the nation's volume of mail has increased incredibly. Congress is to be commended for this effort toward general postal efficiency.

THE TASK IN PALESTINE

Like grasping a handful thistles is the decision of the United Nations to send an advance party into Palestine to start the work of partitioning the Holy Land. There seems little doubt that the authority of the United Nations will be questioned and its strength put to the test before the matter of Palestine is settled. Yet the contest cannot be avoided.

The matter of carrying out a United Nations decree in Palestine is infinitely complicated by the considerations of individual national interests in the whole Middle East area. The world powers which must lend physical authority to the U. N. organization are those which have conflicting individual interests in Palestine. But Palestine is not therefore a unique problem, for individual national interests will arise in any quarter of the globe where the hand of the U. N. may be needed.

Great diplomatic skill and patience were needed to bring about a stand by the United Nations on the issue of Palestine. Far greater skill and longer patience will be called for in converting the stand into action.

ON ICE AND SNOW

For the first time in the history of the Olympic games Americans have won figure skating and skiing events. The day of those two victories was a proud one for Americans, and included some good showings in other events of the games.

The harvest of participation in these games is not alone in the laurels our athletes may bring back to America. Firm and understanding friendships are made on the field of sportsmanlike competition. Our athletes are propagandists, too, in their way. It doesn't hurt to remind others that some Americans, at least, think it important to learn the intricate arts of the skating rink and the ski run.

It makes the middle-aged feel old to read that Alice Longworth, who has just broken her arm, is 63. When her father Theodore Roosevelt was president, she was young and gay. She is still gay, and no one would think of her as elderly. But time passes!

There are too many displaced persons in this world, and nobody placing them properly or giving them a chance to place themselves.

"How to be smart and show it," advises an advertisement. But how to be smart and keep quiet about it is also something.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

And just what sort of man or boy
The firm is seeking to employ?

Of anyone he thought to hire
I've never heard a man inquire
The lowest score at golf he'd made,
Or if the game of bridge he played.

I'm sure he doesn't care a fig
How well the boy can dance a jig.
This seems to be his chief concern:
How eager is the boy to learn.

Has someone led him to believe
Success is easy to achieve?
Or, will he once a task's begun
Stay with it till he gets it done?

Selective Service Getting Ready For Any Emergency

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 19—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey said here today that selective service is "getting ready for whatever comes up."

The tall, bushy-haired director of the Office of Selective Service said "we've got three or four plans ready—just in case."

But he quickly pointed out that he didn't know whether there would be a war right away, later or ever.

Hershey, who presided at the fish bowl when soldiers for World War II were called up, is in San Antonio to confer with armed forces reserve officers from a five-state area in regard to potential military manpower.

He listed the four plans "ready for whatever comes up:"

1. National registration—"to find out what we've got."
2. Universal military training—"That's for the military training of the youngsters 18 to 25 years old."
3. Supplementary recruiting — "That's in case the recruiting program fails."
4. Complete mobilization— "You know what that means."

Grocers Report Retail Prices Still Slipping

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Retail food prices are continuing their downward slide over the nation, the National Association of Retail Grocers reported today.

The association said it had made a second telegraphic survey of important food commodities in independent stores for the week of Feb. 17-24 and found these new cuts in prices:

Bacon, 4 to 20 cents a pound.
Butter, 3 to 14 cents.
Eggs, 1 to 2 cents.
Pork Chops, 4 to 10 cents.
Ground round steak, 5 to 10 cents.
Flour (5-pound bags) down 5 to 8 cents.
Lard, 4 to 10 cents.
Vegetable shortening, 2 to 6 cents.
Margarine, 2 to 3 cents.
Sugar; (5-pound lots) 1 1-2 to 4 cents.

Prices remained steady on the one-pound loaf of white bread, potatoes and evaporated milk, the survey showed. In a few cities eggs and pork chops also remained steady but most showed a drop.

Postoffice Holiday

A regular holiday schedule will be maintained at the U. S. post office Monday, Feb. 23, in observance of the Washington Birthday that occurs Sunday, Feb. 22.

Incoming and outgoing mail will be dispatched, but all windows will be closed for the day and no deliveries will be made by city or rural carriers.

Markets Close Monday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Security and commodity exchanges throughout the United States will be closed Monday, Feb. 23 in observance of Washington's birthday. Various livestock reports will be issued as usual by the Dept. of Agriculture.

Courthouse News

District Court.

An agreed judgment was entered Tuesday morning in the sum of $500 in the case of E. E. Phillips vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association, to set aside award of the industrial accident board, personal injuries. The plaintiff was an employee of the Bethlehem Supply Company at the time of the accident.

An appeal bond in the sum of $300 was filed Tuesday morning by Charles Willmann, and others, in the suit being appealed to the Court of Civil Appeals, Waco, recently decided in favor of the city of Corsicana on the annexation of large areas of territory west, north and northwest of the old municipal boundaries. The bond was filed by Doyle Pevehouse, attorney for the group residing west and northwest of the old lines. Bond for the other group in the consolidated suit headed by A. Hayes Bonner had previously been filed.

The case of Joseph Mudd vs. Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., to set aside award of the industrial accident board, was transferred to federal court.

E. W. O'Daniel vs. Jesse Hart, suit for recovery of property, ruling rendered for plaintiff by Judge A. P. Mays.

Mrs. Dalpha Patton vs. J. C. Patton, divorce granted.

District Clerk.

District Clerk J. C. Gaston Tuesday signed commitment papers on four Navarro county juveniles who were ordered to the state home for dependent and neglected children at Waco, in a hearing before Judge A. P. Mays several weeks ago. Miss Augusta Heim, family service bureau director, was scheduled to take the four juveniles to Waco Tuesday.

The district court jury list for next week was released Tuesday by Gaston as follows:

Mrs. Edwarda H. Garcia vs. Jose Garcia, divorce.

L. E. Hull vs. Irene Hull, divorce.

Martha Campbell Russell vs. Thomas Gorden Russell, divorce.

A petition to declare delinquent a 14-year-old negro boy was filed with the district clerk by County Attorney Charles Banister. The youth is accused of a sex offense against a seven-year-old negro boy. A hearing on the petition will be held before Judge Mays at 11 a. m. Monday.

County Court.

Frand Regalado, charged with violation of the prohibition laws, pleaded guilty before County Judge L. L. Powell Monday afternoon and was fined $100 and costs.

Sheriff's Office.

Two cases involving juveniles were being investigated Wednesday by county officers. A young white boy was held in jail for vagrancy, Sheriff David Castles reported, and a negro youth was in jail accused of a sex offense. The complaining witness was another negro boy, Castles said. County Attorney Charles Banister was investigating.

A member of the Air Forces accused of being AWOL was jailed Thursday by the Sheriff's Department. Also arrested was a man charged with passing a worthless check.

Justice Court.

Judge W. H. Johnson fined two persons for highway violations and received a hot check complaint Wednesday.

Judge W. H. Johnson fined one on two worthless check charges and tried one vagrancy case. The accused vagrant did not pay a fine and was committed to jail, Judge Johnson said.

His statements concerning the conference drew prompt comment from Akransas' Gov. Ben Laney.

Laney told the Commercial Appeal "we don't intend to let our case rest in the hands of McGrath," and added, "We haven't revealed all our plans yet."

Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina said he had no comment.

He added, however, that plans for combating the proposed civil rights program would be worked out in Washington by himself, Gov. Laney, Gov. Beauford Jester of Texas, Gov. Gregg Cherry of North Carolina and Gov. William Tuck of Virginia.

WINTER CHORES ARE EASIER with the UNIVERSAL Jeep

● You can do your winter chores much faster if there's a "Jeep" on the job—especially when snow is deep or mud is soft and sticky. The 4-wheel-drive Universal "Jeep" goes through churned-up farmyards, over impassable winter roads, even across rough open country. With new all metal top and the heater going, you can work the "Jeep" right through the coldest weather—using it for such widely different jobs as spreading manure, hauling produce or fetching supplies. The "Jeep" also furnishes power for operating many kinds of belt-driven equipment, including hammer mills, buzz saws, feed grinders and numerous others that you use the year 'round. Let us show you what the "Jeep" can do.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Secretary of State Marshall says that so far as he knows there's nothing in reports that the Russians have been putting out peace feelers in Berlin for a settlement of the "cold war" with the U. S. A.

Why should Russia want peace? By waging a carefully planned "cold war" of aggression (and sometimes not so cold), she has brought virtually all of Eastern Europe and part of Central Europe under Soviet domination. She has extended her influence over Manchuria and a great section of Northern China, and has virtually annexed Northern Korea.

In other countries, not excluding the United States, Soviet agents and adherents have been giving demonstrations of what comumnistic organization can do. The bolshevists would seem to have done fairly well for themselves. Why should they sue for peace?

Cold War Seen

We must remind ourselves again that the cold war wasn't of spontaneous origin. It is a part of bolshevism's thirty year old program of world evolution. It is a project which never will cease until either (1) communism succeeds in overwhelming the world, or (2) the Red advance is halted by a material barrier—like the Marshall plan.

The bolshevist satellite empire now includes everything up to the Stettin-Adriatic line, which is the frontier between Red Eastern Europe and democratic Western Europe. The Russians can't employ their troops to the west of that line, and so must depend on the usual communist strong-arm tactics to create situations out of which Soviet regimes may be established. It is to prevent the success of these tactics that the Marshall plan was devised.

Different Picture

We have a very different picture in the Orient. Russian fighting forces are widely scattered in strategic positions which must encourage Moscow to believe she has a good chance of bringing Manchuria and Northern China within its control, along with Northern Korea. The bolshevists have double encouragement in the fact that the Chinese communists are in effect fighting Russia's battle for her.

I don't believe Moscow is suing for peace.

California Cold Cuts Orange Crop

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A 3,500-carload loss to the state's navel orange crop because of cold weather since mid-January is the estimate of the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

The Exchange said the loss, 1,500,000 boxes, represents 15 percent of the crop.

Damage to the Valencia orange crop has not been determined but is expected to equal or exceed the loss of navel oranges, the Exchange said yesterday.

The lemon crop, it added, will be "several thousand cars less" than last year's total, 33,000 cars.

THE NATION TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW

By JERRY KORN
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—(AP)—President Truman has asked congress for $570,000,000 to help China.

That help is needed, he said, because—

"The Chinese government and people are still laboring under the double and interrelated burden of Civil War and a rapidly deteriorating economy."

Wars is nothing new for China.

First there were a number of small Chinese states. They fought each other until about 200 B. C., when they were united by Emperor Shih Huang Ti.

Many Rulers

In the centuries that followed one family of rulers came after another—usually by kicking out the family before it.

The Manchus lasted until 1911, putting down rebellion and fighting wars.

It was that Japanese war which led to the downfall of the Manchus.

It left China so weak other nations began pushing her around. A revolt against foreigners in 1900—called the boxer rebellion—was put down by an international army.

Manchus Lose Out

In 1911, there was a nation-wide blowup against the weakened government and the Manchus were tossed out.

Modern Chinese history starts there. The country became a republic, led by Dr. Sun Yat-Sen. But the fighting continued.

There was an uprising in 1916 against a man who wanted to make himself emperor. After he died, there was Civil War between a number of military leaders and the followers of Dr. Sun.

That's where Chiang Kai-Shek, the present leader, comes in.

Chiang Strong Man

He was a supporter of Sun Yat-Sen. Sun Yat-Sen died in 1925. But by 1928, Chiang had beaten most of the warlords and controlled the greater part of the country.

He has controlled it ever since, but he has had to fight one battle after another. Against warlords and against Communists.

In 1931, the Japanese invaded Manchuria. That started a war which lasted until World War II ended.

Fight Each Other

But as soon as the war ended, the Kuomintang—which is the party headed by Chiang Kai-Shek—and the Communists began figthing each other.

That's still goin on.

President Truman sent Gen. George C. Marshall—now secretary of state—to China in 1946 to try to bring the two sides together. But Marshall was forced to give up.

To pay for all its fighting, the Chinese government has had to print more and more money.

Finally it took more than 200,000 Chinese dollars to equal one American dollar.

So China has had to fight tarrific inflation too.

Both Sides Blamed

Some people have said this country ought to help the Chinese government fight the Communists by sending in military supplies.

But when Marshall finished his assignment in China he said he did not blame the Communists alone.

He said the "reactionaries" in the government are also to blame. They are the ones, he said, who seem to have counted on American help "regardless of their actions."

Mr. Truman didn't say anything about helping fight the Communists. He said China should be given help to buy the things it needs like grain, oil, medicines and machinery.

The idea is to give China a breathing spell in its economic troubles. The rest is up to China, itself.

CONGRESS

may have to hold several Saturday sessions in the next few weeks. Saturday meetings of congress are rare.

The senate buckled down to work yesterday and zipped through a resolution to hold government spending to $37,200,000,000 during the fiscal year starting July 1.

That's $2,500,000,000 less than President Truman figured on.

The house plans to take up the budget cut matter next Wednesday. No major fight is in prospect in the house.

The spending goal, simply a target and not binding on anyone, also calls for a payment of at least $2,600,000,000 on the national debt next year.

Halleck listed these other measures on next week's house docket:

An appropriation bill for rivers and harbors and flood control; a 30-day extension of rent control; an indefinite continuance of the president's expiring authority to control tin, antimony and similar scarce materials; President Truman's controversial proposal to make the wartime transfer of the United States employment service to the labor department, and final action on a compromise bill revising the civil service retirement system.

The senate starts debate tomorrow on its own rent control bill, with a final vote set for next week.

Other developments include:

Vote fraud—Senator Kem (R-Mo) said the justice department "whitewashed" alleged irregularities in Kansas City's 1946 voting.

Rents—Senator Ives (R-NY) said he's against a part of the senate bill to extend rent controls.

The section he dislikes would remove ceilings from houses and apartments where the rent is more than $225 a month.

Communist-Labor —Rep. Mac-Dowell (R-Pa) told reporters the house un-American activities committee plans to check whether any labor leaders have lied in swearing they are not Communists.

Women Military—Rep. Shafer (R-Mich) predicted that the house will okay a bill to let women become regular members of the Army, Navy and Air Forces.

The senate already has passed a similar bill.

H. Jester as his successor when he resigned to become Governor. Murray seeks election to the unexpired two years of the six-year term Jester began in 1944.

Disclaims Politics

Claiming to know nothing of politics, the young graduate petroleum engineer said he was going to make the race at the insistence of friends.

He promised continued determination to do whatever he could to further oil and gas conservation and to give study to proper controls over transportation industries "for the welfare of both the public and the operators."

Woods, who has held the state superintendency continuously since 1933, said he would base his candidacy on past accomplishments and future plans.

He cited seven specific accomplishments during his tenure:

1. Increase in per capita apportionment from $16 to $55.
2. $2,000 minimum teacher salary law passed.
3. Increase in rural aid from $2,500,000 to $18,000,000.
4. Texas' rank raised to 15 among states in financial support of schools.
5. Teaching standards improved until all accredited schools are demanding teachers with recognized college degrees.
6. Number of school districts operating schools have been cut in half.
7. 90 per cent of the children of the state now have available an accredited school.

JACK O'BRIAN ON BROADWAY

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK—Kate Smith and Ted Collins are interested in starting a video commercial for Dumont Television, the format an hour-long variety show . . . Kate's an old hand at stage techniques, which Video experts say will come in mighty handy when visual entertainers again will have the upper hand . . . Bert Wheeler is still another veteran comic biding his time, and solvently, too, in the nation's night clubs and vaudeville theaters, with every confidence that television will revolutionize his honored trade of buffoonery.

Bert Lahr could have had any of three handsome offers to star in new Broadway shows but chose instead to remain with the revival of "Burlesque." This would be in a sorry state without him, but with such a wonderful clown is one of the delights of the decade . . . Milton Berle wants Guy Lombardo's music firm to publish his "Five Nickels For a Quarter," which Milton insists is a cinch for the juke trade.

• • •

JUST after I insisted that I no longer could think of Boris Karloff as a villain after his lengthy buildup as a gentle soul in private life, along comes the announcement that Boris has carved his final cadaver . . . He'll be a kindly, erudite professor in a new play, "The Linden Tree." . . . Billy Rose is installing two revolving stages to transform his Diamond Horseshoe from a huge honky tonk to a basement version of Carnegie Hall.

Russ Morgan, stylistic trombonist-bandleader at the Biltmore's plush Bowman Room, is one of the all-time bigtimers of jazz music . . . He goes back to the great Gene Goldkette orchestras which numbered among its roster such swing virtuosi as the Dorseys, Joe Venuti, the late Eddie Lang, Chauncey Morehouse, the much-mourned Bix Beiderbecke.

I always knew Russ tooted a distinctive trombone, but didn't realize exactly how different it was until one night in a smoky jazz palace in Buffalo years ago during a talk with Nick Larocca, the famous leader of the hallowed Dixieland Jazz Band . . . Nick said every famous dance music style and instrumental soloist of popular renown could trace some or all of his stylings back to the Dixieland group . . . "With the exception of Russ Morgan," he added.

On the subject of Russ, Nick was quietly respectful . . . "Now, there's a musician," he said, implying that no greater compliment could be cited.

DANNY ROSS, who just finished a lengthy and highly popular engagement at the Biltmore's Bowman Room, has written a ditty called "Underneath the Clock at the Biltmore," in honor of the countless courtships which began with a first date in the Biltmore lobby.

It's actually a more renowned romantic clock than the one at the Astor, even though the Astor was duly honored by having its handsome lobby ticker celebrated everywhere, a movie called "The Clock," with Robert Walker and June Allyson, was screened.

U. S. POLITICS

Wallace, on a speech-making tour of the South, gave no indication that he plans to heed any call to "come home, all is forgiven."

Instead he announced at Miami Beach that his supporters have obtained 460,000 signatures on a petition to put his name on the primary election ballot in California.

South Flares Again.

A group of southerners canceled their reservation for the big $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson dinners tonight where prominent Democrats will rally around President Truman.

The issue was one which has brought a chorus of rebel yells from south of the Mason-Dixon line in recent weeks: The color line.

Mrs. Olin D. Johnston, wife of the South Carolina Senator, said she decided not to attend the dinner "because I might be seated next to a Negro."

DEPARTMENT STORE

Texas Today

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

A country store in a big city is he L. Wagner Grocery.

Just across from the courthouse a downtown Dallas, the 79-year-ld establishment preserves the ellow flavor of the nineteenth entury.

It has none of the trimmings of he supermarket. Things are stack-d around informally, the interior dim, the ceilings are high and here is a smell of age.

Pinto, navy and lima beans are in ins that pull out from under the ooden counters. So are the black-eyed peas and sugar. There is a bin for brown sugar, too, but it's full of nothing but cobwebs.

No Brown Sugar

"Can't get brown sugar now," said Louis W. Wagner, stocky, middle-aged owner.

George E. Wagner, co-owner, died in December at the age of 65. The store was built in 1868, operated for many years by L. Wagner, father of the two brothers. Then the two brothers took over.

The showcases are carved antiques, with brass decorations. Beneath them, on the floor, are buckets of honey and boxes of fruit. A few steps away is a spigoted barrel of cototnseed oil. "Cooking oil," Louis Wagner said.

Three farmers were backed up to the big, pot-bellied stove.

"Things Sure High"

"Was in the barber shop awhile ago," said one. "A fellow come in selling sausage. Got $1.50 for just a little bit of a piece."

One of the others shook his head: "Things is sure high."

An old man came in, bought a twist of chewing tobacco. Once the store sold 40 kinds of chewing tobacco—and colored whiskey for $2 per gallon. Wagner rang up the purchase in the wooden cash register, a 59-year-old museum piece with a crack.

And the country store in the city may be reaching the end of its days.

"Don't know exactly what I'm going to do with it," Wagner said. "I'm alone here now. If a fellow with a pile of money comes in making offers he's liable to find himself with a grocery store."

Meteor Believed Seen In 6 States

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 19—(AP)—Astronomer Oscar Monnig said he believed the "ball of fire" seen in six states yesterday was a meteor which disintegrated high in the air.

Ranchers in the Higgins, Texas, and Shattuck, Oklahoma area reported seeing a brightly colored object "about the size of a barrel" explode in the air north of Shattuck.

Son May Benefit From Stark's Finding Lost Gems

Establishment of a scholarship whereby a three-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Starks of Houston, former Corsicanans, will receive a college education is contemplated by Mrs. A. M. Baxter of Los Angeles, Calif., according to reports from Houston.

Starks found a suitcase that fell from a taxicab last week end, containing $70,000 in jewelry, clothes and money, and kept it for the owner, returning it Monday when Mrs. Baxter and Starks were contacted by Houston news reporters. Mrs. Baxter has been ill and contacted the Starks family by telephone Wednesday. She is the wife of a wealthy Los Angeles lumber and creosoting executive.

Mrs. Baxter will meet the Starks and their little son later in the week, it was stated, when the wealthy woman is able to visit them. Starks is a carpenter.

Free Ride For You— on the Freedom Train!

We had a real thrill in Our Town just the other day—when the Freedom Train stopped by!

You've heard about it, of course—an actual train that's touring the country to remind us again what true Democracy means. It carries such Americana as the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and other immortal documents that guarantee every citizen his liberty.

A great idea! And from where I sit, we're all riding along with that Freedom Train—right now—by living in a country that protects our individual liberties—whether they apply to our right to vote, to choose our church, to speak our minds, or enjoy a glass of beer with friends.

Only thing is—we've got to prove ourselves worthy of the ride ... by guarding zealously against whatever forces of intolerance encroach upon our American concepts of live-and-let-live, in a free and strong Democracy!

Texans Advised Health Problems During Old Age

AUSTIN, Feb. 19—(Spl)—Some folks are old at sixty others are mentally and physically alert at eighty. The number of years one has lived may not be a true index to ones physical condition. Actually, the length of a person's life span is influenced by the condition of his arteries. Premature hardening of the arteries, often due to avoidable infections, improper diet, and possibly worry and strain is to a certain extent, preventable, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Many of the problems connected with the hygiene of old age are due to lowered mental power. Therefore, a cheerful and optimistic attitude toward the aged, especially during sickness, is essential to their well-being.

Old people regard their condition as far less serious when they can be fully dressed and out of bed. When they can be up, the excretory organs function more satisfactorily, too. However, when an elderly person complains of being overtired, or otherwise not physically fit, a day of rest in bed is advisable. By providing light and easily digested food and applying warmth to the body of an aged patient, he is often tided over a mild or threatened illness.

Special attention should be paid also to proper clothing, diet, and exercise of the elderly. With reasonable attention to certain well-defined and easily followed principles of personal hygiene, it is possible to grow old gracefully. Furthermore it is also possible, in many instances, to retain one's faculties to such an extent as to make old age a pleasure rather than a burden.

Temple Wildcats Lead Throughout Contest Tuesday

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff

The Temple Wildcats wound up their district schtdule against the Corsicana Tigers Tuesday night here, trouncing the Bengals 47-32, to finish undefeated in district play and gain their second victory in as many starts over the locals.

The Tiger Cubs saved Corsicana from a shut-out for the night, however, pasting the Temple B string 33-21 in the curtain-raiser.

Temple Leads

The Tigers were never ahead, but Temple did not have a comfortable lead until the final quarter. Otis Pederson's charges simply could not find the basket with the ball, missing enough shots, both simple and complicated ones, during the first quarter to more than keep on even terms with the Wildcats.

On the other hand the visitors could not miss. John Connell had a gala night, missing seldom on set shots ,to lead the Templeites with 13 points. Max Carter and Leon Wylie mustered 9 points each to lead the scoring for the Bengals.

Score Early

Temple got a 4-0 lead before the Tigers scored. The Wildcats maintained their lead, and held a 14-9 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

Corsicana made its bid in the second quarter. For almost five minutes the score remained at 14-9, while both sides hustled to tally. Connell's free toss broke the scoreless period, and the Wildcats went on to hold a 19-10 lead at half-time.

From there on Temple held the unquestioned edge. The score at the end of the third quarter was 37-22, and at the three-minute period, 41-28. Bill Davis, who could not connect, went out of the Tiger lineup in the final period with a turned ankle, and Gerald Bowen went out via the foul route earlier in the game.

The Tigers turned in good performances at times, but missed too many scoring chances to stay within striking distance of the Temple crew.

The Cubs finished strong in the last half of their game with the Temple B team. They held a 16-9 lead at halftime, and widened it to 24-14 at the end of the third quarter. At 3 minutes to play they were in front 28-19.

John Custer's 15 points was high for the Cubs. The work of Bristow and Langston under the goal was a vital factor in the Cubs win, and Lamar Crook, Walter Bond, and Johnny Crawford furnished sparkling support.

Henderson County Quint Outclasses Bulldogs 50 to 38

BY TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff.

The Henderson County Junior College Cardinals outclassed the Navarro Bulldogs Wednesday night on the Junior high court here to take a 58-38 victory in the east zone of the TJCAC basketball race.

The visitors piled up their comfortable margin of victory in the second half, running in a second team that was almost as good as the first, and just as fast.

First Half Battle.

The Bulldogs made a battle of it in the first half, but the Cardinals pulled ahead just as that period ended to hold a 34-22 margin at halftime, but it was not enough, and the visitors pulled farther ahead.

For most of the first half it was a nip-and-tuck battle. The lead changed hands four times in the first ten minutes. After that the Henderson center, McDaniels, used his towering height and accurate eye to boost the visitors ahead. That drive proved to be the ball game.

After a halftime rest the Bulldogs came back eager for the fray, but the best they could do was to hold the Cardinals to 30-39 for a few minutes. After that the visitors were in command.

The first half of the game was rough, and Jack Holland fouled out in that period. Late in the final period Littlejohn fouled out, leaving the Bulldogs minus two of their starters. Littlejohn accounted for 16 points before he went out, to lead the local scoring.

McDaniel piled up 15 points for the visitors before he went out via the foul route late in the game.

The Bulldogs will close their conference season here Saturday night when they play the Allen Academy five on the junior high court.

Wednesday night's victory for the Cardinals left them in the running for the zone title. They play the Lon Morris crew in their final game Friday night in Athens. The winner of that game will represent the zone in the play-offs.

Hillsboro Five Outlasts Tiger Quint Wednesday

The Hillsboro Eagles copped their tilt with the Corsicana Tigers in Hillsboro Wednesday night, 30-27, evening the series between the two teams.

The Corsicana B team racked up its 16th win of the season in the curtain-raiser, trouncing the Eaglets 28-20.

The Tigers were without the services of Bill Davis, one of the key starters, who sprained an ankle in the game with Temple earlier in the week, and could not make the Hillsboro trip.

It was a close game all the way. Hillsboro managed a 6-5 edge at the end of the first quarter, and a 16-12 halftime margin. The Eagles also led, 23-22, at the end of the third quarter.

Corsicana, however, had the lead twice—once in the second and once in the third quarters. At one point they had a seven-point lead over the Eagles, but the Hill Countians retired it slowly.

Leon Wylie's 6 points was the best the Tigers could muster for the night, but there was fairly even scoring throughout the whole Tiger roster. Mosley's 13-points was the best for Hillsboro.

Corsicana closes its district season with a game with the Ennis Lions here Friday night. Although it has not been definitely decided as yet, the Tigers may play an exhibition game with the high school faculty following that game.

Catches Calf In Houston Scramble

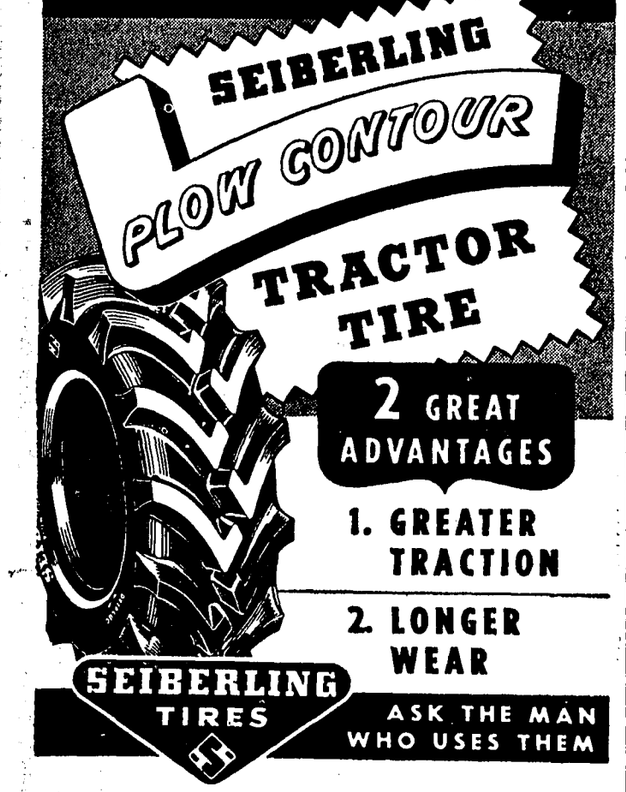

A Frost 4-H Club youth, Charles Adams, won a 108-pound calf at the Houston Livestock Show, County Agent W. H. Walker announced Tuesday.

Young Adams chased the lively little animal to a showdown in the big rodeo arena during the annual calf scramble. Youths who caught a calf could have it.

Adams will feed the Hereford for a year and display it at next year's Houston stock show, as required by the rules, Walker said.

Three Former Victims Of Drink Are Speakers At Alcoholics Anonymous Local Meeting On Monday Evening

By CLYDE E. JOHNSON
Daily Sun Staff

Three former victims of alcoholism told some 400 persons gathered in the Junior High School auditorium Monday night how America's 2,000,000 alcoholics may overcome the malady—through Alcoholics Anonymous.

Al Badger, prominent Dallas business man, acted as chairman of the public meeting, and told his personal story of "finding a greater power than myself to keep me sober."

Other speakers included an ex-Marine and now a Texas college student, and an East Texas educator, both of whom are alcoh lics but achieved sobriety through the AA.

Alcoholism "Disease"

"We of Alcoholics Anonymous consider alcoholism a disease; we have medical proof of that. Yet little is done about it," declared Badger.

"It is looked upon with scorn and neglect by a misinformed public."

Badger said the alcoholic is being thrown in jail, and pushed through courts and psychopathic wards.

Quoting statistics on American drinking, Badger reported that 60,000,000 persons are drinkers, 28,000,000 of them women. Two million are compulsive drinkers—alcoholics, and 12,000 die annually in U. S. institutions of chronic alcoholism, he said.

Ex-Marine Speaks

"We can do nothing about the alergy of the body," Badger declared. "Once an alcoholic always an alcoholic. A drink will always lead to a drunk."

The ex-Marine, introduced as "Ed", spoke on "One Man's Conception of That Peculiar Organization. Alcoholics Anonymous."

He related how he had thought his drinking problem was different from any others. It seemed that everyone was against him, he said, and that he never received any praise.

The speaker said his drinking always was "justified" because no one else had the problems he had.

Experiences Same

But after joining the AA, he said, "I found my experiences to be the same as my fellow AA members."

The AA, it was explained, is not a religious organization. Yet, each speaker said it was the power of God which led him to sobriety. Members pray daily for continued sobriety and prayers open and close the AA meetings.

The ex-Marine, after telling of the Almighty Power which each Alcoholic must look to, denied that the AA was "plucking out at neurosis and substituting a religious belief—it is an experience, a religious experience."

"Grace of God"

He concluded:

"If such an experience has made you happier, healthier—then this experience of mind is indeed the grace of God."

The third speaker, who lives in Tyler, explained the program of AA. Each speaker declared flatly that he was not ashamed of being an alcoholic. It is a disease, just as tuberculosis, they said. But only Badger's name was disclosed.

The Tyler man said the alcoholic who wants to join AA must first have an honest desire to quit drinking. This is the first of 12 steps the member must follow. The others include belief in a "greater power than ourselves", confessions, good deeds, make amends to persons harmed, practice all the steps and carry the message to other alcoholics. At least three of the steps involve relationships with God.

Origin Explained

The Tyler speaker said an Ohio doctor and a Wall Street broker organized the AA, that in 1939 there were 100 members who wrote the book, "Alcoholics Anonymous". The book now is considered the AA members' Bible. About 60,000 persons are now AA members.

Rev. J. Morris Bailey, Methodist minister here, introduced Badger and acted in behalf of the Civitans Club, sponsor of the public meeting.

Bailey also spoke briefly on a speech made by a woman AA member at Ennis recently. She was scheduled to appear on the Monday night program but was ill and unable to attend, it was announced.

Bailey said the greatest impression he received in the woman's talk was the fact that "she had never seen a husband seek help for an alcoholic wife" yet wives, mothers, fathers, and others are constantly seeking help for their loved ones who are afflicted with the disease.

Wives Abandoned

"The men run out on their alcoholic wives," the minister declared, "And we men should be ashamed of it."

The word hangover was used only once during the meeting. The suffering which goes with alcoholism was not described, as many persons present probably anticipated it would be. But Badger, in making the final remarks, declared:

"No one knows how we suffer except the alcoholics."

The other two speakers on the stage nodded their heads in agreement.

Miss Marion Peace Becomes Bride Of Joe Lee Burke

In a double ring ceremony performed at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Missionary Baptist church, Miss Marion Peace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C A. Peace of Canton, exchanged marriage vows with Joe Lee Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Burke of Corsicana.

Officiating at the service was Rev. A. J. Kirkland, pastor of the Missionary Baptist church.

Otis Langston, pianist, presented the wedding music. He also played "Together," and for background music during the ceremony, "The Indian Love Call."

E. T. Fincher gave his sister-in-law in marriage. Her wedding dress was of pastel pink wool, fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves, round neck and a low fitting waist with bustle back. Her hat was of pastel pink flowers caught with a shoulder length veil. Her accessories were of creme de cocoa.

Her only jewelry was a heart shaped necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. Her corsage was of white sweet peas tied with white satin ribbon. She carried a white Bible showered with pink and white streamers of ribbon.

Mrs. Dean Vest, twin sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Mrs. E. T. Fincher, another sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Leroy Robinson served as best man. Ushers were W. E. Percival and Henry Langridge. Dean Vest lighted the candles. Miss Mary Pearce of Canton, another sister of the bride registered guests in the bride's book.

Mrs. Burke graduated from Canton High School and for the past two years has been employed with F. W. Woolworth and Company. Her husband served with the armed forces and for the past year has been employed with Barq's Bottling Co.

After a short wedding trip to East Texas the couple will live at 1000 North Twentieth street. For the trip the bride wore a powder blue suit with creme de cacoa accessories. Her corsage was of white sweet peas.

Foundation Is Conducting Farm Research Work

Dr. H. Trucheart Brown, assistant director of the Texas State Research Foundation, Renner, was a Corsicana visitor Wednesday.

The Foundation with an annual budget of over $100,000 and a staff of 40 men, has as projects soil building crops, fertilizer in black lands, new cash crops and use of farm products as industrial raw materials.

A contribution of $350,000 from Carl Hoblitzelle, Dallas capitalist, to which North Texas business men added $500,000, established the Foundation and made this important farm research work possible.

Research work is conducted on a 150 acre farm in Dallas and Collin counties, owned by the Foundation.

French Girl Is Coming To Live With Texas Uncle

MARSHALL, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Denise Damenstein, 18, will arrive in the United States from Europe this week end to make her home with an uncle she has never seen.

The uncle, Nathan Weis, a tailor here, is going to New York to welcome his sister's daughter.

During the occupation of Paris in 1942 Germans carried away the girl's parents and younger sister. She has not seen them again.

In her mother's effects she found letters Weis had written his sister. She wrote to Weis and he replied.

It took more than a year to get the necessary papers for the girl to enter the United States.

Weis said he will bring the girl to his home here. He wants her to go to school again.

Good spring weather will send the prices of used cars higher, even if that does look impossible. Dealers say new used 1948 models will bring $350-$400 above list prices, and 1947 models $200 above.

America is making slow progress in building up stockpiles needed in the event of war.

Robert P. Koenig, chairman of the mineral resources committee of the president's committee on foreign aid, says only 20 percent of the minimum stockpile objective will be achieved by the end of 1948.

He gave the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers today one cheering prospect, however.

Koenig, who is president of Ayrshire Collieries Corp., Indianapolis, Ind., said:

"With generally small increase in output, strategic raw materials valued at approximately $254 million annually could be made available from nations and their colonies participating in the Marshall program. Such imports would be at least partial recompense for aid extended."

East Texas Gets Only Increase In Oil Allowable

AUSTIN, Feb. 19.—(AP)—An 8,817 barrel daily increase in the East Texas oil field is the only change in Texas allowable set by the railroad commission for March.

The commission's order, issued yesterday, is expected to produce 2,400,923 barrels of crude daily. The East Texas increase was achieved by jumping from 20 producing days in February to 22 in March.

Total new allowable for Texas was fixed at 2,560,985 barrels daily, but the commission figured underproduction of 6.25 perecent, or 160,062 barrels, will mean an actual flow of 2,400,923 barrels per day.

Natural gasoline and distillates will add another 213,184 barrels of Texas petroleum products, booosting total output to 2,614,107 barrels daily. This is 214,107 barrels more than the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of daily market demand for Texas production.

that unfavorable weather was endangering the new wheat crop in Southwest Kansas. Grain prices rallied.

While the supply of meat-on-the-hoof was low, the farm value of livestock was at a record peak because of high prices.

This news gave added weight to predictions of less meat at higher prices this spring if demand continues.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson predicted at Washington that European production of grains this year will be about 26 percent higher than the previous year.

The Associated Press wholesale price index of 35 basic commodities slid a fraction of a point to 187.03. It was 187.20 Tuesday and 188.35 on Monday.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judy:

Teen-agers and Mom and Pop are always at odds about every little thing. Parents can find scads of little reasons to criticize their offspring and the kids have plenty of gripes insofar as the actions of their parents goes.

Parents who constantly forbid their kids to do things usually have the worst kids, however. This probably is because the kids consider it a challenge to prove Mom and Pop are wrong and besides they are "old-fashioned." On the other hand when the child is given free rein often she can decide the right and wrong for herself.

Mary's mother loves to have a drink, smoke and occasionally makes a complete goop of herself when Mary's company is present. But, do you think Mary emulates her mother? On the contrary, she becomes so annoyed with her mothers' antics that she doesn't even like to be around members of her own crowd who drink or smoke. Though Mary's mother offers her a drink occasionally and would permit her to smoke if she wanted to do so, Mary has no desire to partake of either. She will not even take a holiday drink of wine.

Other kids in the group, however, really go to town—especially when they are away from home. Sibby, whose mother and father are teetotalers, drinks and smokes at every opportunity. Her mother and father punish her for disobeying them and Sibby just gets angry that they are "such old foggys."

So what's the solution?

Anna W. M. Wolf writing for a magazine (Woman's Home Companion) asks "What kind of parents do children want?" Miss Wolf relates that in a town where "grown-up criticism of youngsters' behavior had reached an all-time high" the Parent-Teacher Association at the school arranged a meeting so that each side would have its day in court so that children and parents could reach some agreement.

The parents complained about late hours, bad manners, the nuisance of the radio and telephone, lack of responsibility for school work....

The kids objected to "a mother who's a perpetual iceberg....Dad barging into the room and turning the radio off at the height of the fun....parents who read the kids' mail...."

It developed that the youngsters really want parents who are interested in the same things their children are interestd in. If Johnny wants to know a World Series score he should be able to ask Pop who won and get an answer. (Even if Pop isn't a baseball fan, if he and Junior are real pals, Pop should listen to his son enthusiastically.)

They want parents with a sense of humor, who can find time to stop and laugh at small jokes.... who accept them as they are without trying to make them bookish if they are mechanical or nag them to be party mixers when they just aren't that kind....who let them be their age...whom they can be proud of before their friends.... who are nice to look at...who run a home that is attractive....who are interested in affairs outside their own homes and families.... and who recognize that a teenager is past the toddler stage, and stop fussing over them.

Texan Found Dead In Tourist Court

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 19—(AP)—Police identified a man found dead in a tourist court here yesterday as A. C. Allen of Pampa, Texas.

An autopsy was ordered by Asst. District Attorney Harry D. Robbins.

Police Sgt. A. L. Neete reported there was an odor of gas in Allen's room.

Papers found on Allen indicated he was employed by Burke Lines Transportation Company of Amarillo, Texas, Neete said.

Teachers May Ask Governor Again To Call Session

MARSHALL, Tex., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Miss Emma Mae Brotze, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, said it again may be necessary to ask Gov. Beauford Jester to call a special session of the legislature in order to overcome a deficit in Rural-Aid funds.

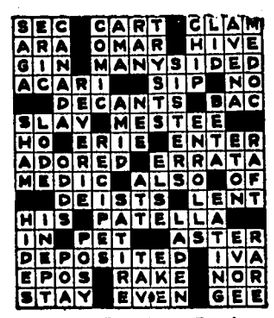

She said "Every effort will be exhausted" to overcome the $3,000,000 deficit short of a special session. But she said if efforts fail to cope with the deficit in the school equalization aid fund, the governor will again be asked to call the special session.

Jester denied such a request Tuesday.

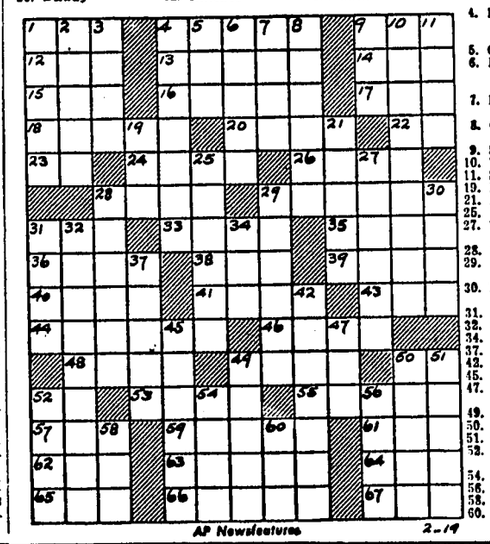

Miss Brotze said she had appointed Henry Stilwell of Texarkana and Dana Williams of Tenaha, president of the county superintendents association, to work with the joint legislative committee in trying to overcome the shortage.

Candidates In Louisiana Race Exchange Charges

By The Associated Press

A charge that 100,000 votes were stolen from Sam H. Jones in the first Democratic primary race for governor was denied last night by his opponent, Earl K. Long.

"You can't steal something from someone who hasn't got anything," Long told a crowd in Farmersville, La. "No one here stole any of those votes and none were stolen anywhere else in Louisiana. Sam Jones never had any votes to be stolen in the first place."

Long invited his listeners to attend his inauguration in Baton Rouge, promising them soda pop and buttermilk as refreshments.

In Folsom, La., meanwhile, Jones was calling on Long to reveal the "huge" lobbying fees Jones charges Long received in the past but which, he says, do not appear in Long's income tax records.

Negro In The Woodpile Is Cause Of All The Shooting; Trial Scheduled

The thing boiled down to this: Was there really a Negro in the woodpile?

May Belle—that's May Belle Lofton—says there was and she potshotted at him.

May Belle is a Negro, too. She is going to have a baby. And she picked up her shotgun and blazed away at the woodpile. She did it two or three times, did May Belle.

Down in dusky town the neighbors tell a different story.

The neighbors claim—according to Policeman Kelsey Blakney—that May Belle just potshots for the hell of it.

Charges Potshots

They say she potshots at their houses in the dark of night, which is the worst possible time to be pot-shooted at, if it can be said that way, and apparently it can't.

The first of the week saw May Belle in corportion court. She told Judge Chris Knox she took a shot at somebody raiding her woodpile.

The judge said her fine would be $15.

May Belle, as she puts it later, got herself "a lawyerman."

At 10 a. m. Thursday the lawyer, Judge R. R. Owen met with the city recorder and Julius C. Jacobs, the city attorney.

The city attorney didn't know about the case. He said that he didn't know.

Fine Suggested

Judge Owen at first suggested the quick-on-the-trigger Negro be fined $5.

"I'll pay it myself," said the tall grey-haired lawyer. "And I can't afford it."

It looked for a time that May Belle would get off with a warning to lay that shotgun down in the future.

Judge Knox stiffened his back a bit. He said the neighbors had complained about all the shooting.

Judge Owen stiffened, too. He said he would go to trial.

City Attorney Jacobs had departed with the assurance he would be back.

It was finally agreed that all parties concerned, particularly May Belle, would come back at 2 p. m. Feb. 26.

That Baby Is All His Now

Now she belongs to papa after 28 years.

Twenty-eight years ago a daughter was born to a Navarro county couple. Nothing unusual in that, as such an event is a daily occurrence throughout the world.

But that's not the story.

Finances got a little tight in 1920, as many of the elder business men will testify.

The father of this child made a partial payment on the delivery charge of a local doctor.

Today this same father called at the office of the Corsicana doctor.

"I owe you $31.00 balance for services rendered when my daughter was born," he told the astonished medical man.

He produced the original bill dated Jan. 1, 1920 and handed it to the doctor along with the $31.00 in cash.

Former Corsicanan Finds Suitcase Containing Gems Valued At $70,000

A former Corsicana resident, A. K. Starks, figured prominently in the news during the week end in Hcuston when he found and returned to the rightful owner a suitcase containing $70,000 in jewelry.

Starks, 28, a carpenter, 2405 Couch, Shady Acres, Houston, formerly was employed at the Bethlehem Supply Company here, and had been residing in Houston only five months. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Starks, Route 3, Exall Heights, and his wife is the former Sue Pope of Corsicana.

Mrs. A. M. Baxter, wife of a Los Angeles lumber and creosoting company executive reclaimed the suitcase Monday after having lost it Friday from a taxicab as she was speeding to the Southern Pacific Lines station to catch a train, according to a story carried Tuesday morning in the Houston Chronicle, along with photos of Mr and Mrs. Starks and their three-year old son, Joe. Mrs. Baxter and Capt. Tom Eubanks, Houston detective.

Starks saw the suitcase fall from the taxicab, according to the story, but after retrieving it, lost the taxicab, although he went on to the Southern Pacific Lines station, missing Mrs. Baxter, who had dashed back to her hotel in an effort to find the missing bag that contained not only the jewelry, but valuable clothes, travelers checks and money. Starks reported his find to the railroad agent and returned home with the valuable find.

Notified Police.

Mrs. Baxter apparantly inquired of everyone in Houston except the two who know about her property, and then proceeded on her trip to New Orleans. She notified the Houston police Sunday. After the police reporters had written stories about the missing suitcase, the agent saw the papers and reported to the police where it could be fcund.

"I'm glad you've found the owner. I've already lost a day's work trying to locate the owner and I was beginning to be worried about the suitcase. I've got it here under the bed," Starks told the investigating detective.

Contents Unknown to Finder.

The former Corsicanan did not have any idea of the value of the contents of the suitcase.

Mrs. Baxter said she would do something nice for the Starks, who said they only wanted to see the property returned to its rightful owner.

Mrs Baxter, member of a pioneer New Mexico family, said she had danced professionally before her marriage in such New York productions as Earl Carrolls' Vanities, the Ziegfeld Follies, George White's Scandals and other shows.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Robert Lee Grantham wish to express their deep appreciation for all of the expressions of kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement. We shall ever be grateful for the beautiful floral offerings and the food that was brought. The service rendered by those with tractors, trucks and teams was invaluable. We acknowledge the spiritual ministry of the ministers of the community.—The R. D. Grantham Family.

New York Cotton Table

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Cotton futures turned steady following early easiness today as mill buying and short covering met only limited offerings. There was a good deal evening-up nearby March, anticipating first notice day next Tuesday.

Private advices said that mills have bought very little spot cotton this week because of the uncertain prospects for prices and the lack of buyer interest in textiles.

Adverse weather has retarded preparation for the new cotton crop, but the central and eastern belts have a good supply of subsoil moisture, according to southern reports. News of floods in the Mississippi Delta region attracted the attention of traders ,but it was felt they were too early to threaten the next cotton crop.

Aggressive liquidation depressed cotton futures in the final hour of trading and found only light trade support and some short covering. At the close values were around the lowest levels of the day and down about $1.50 a bale.

Futures closed 35 cents to $1.40 a bale lower than the previous close.

Conservation Program Urged By Geo. W. Ward

A program of conservation for farmers—as well as farmland—is suggested in a statement by Geo. W. Ward, chairman of the Navarro County Agricultural Conservation program.

"If conservation means the opposite of waste—and I think it does—then we need a program of conservation for farmers," said Ward.

"By that I mean that good farmers are an asset to the country. They, as well as soil, may be wasted by a combination of bad weather, fire, bugs, disease, rodents, hail, frost, or any of the other things that can turn the best of farming into a failure."

Ward explained that conserving soil depends a lot on the men who till the soil.

"We can't afford to lose these farmers because of crop failure," the statement declared. "That's why crop insurance plays such an important part in the whole farm conservation program.

"While the area where crop insurance is in effect this year is limited, the program is of vital interest in that its successful operation may lead to a broad program of protection to all farmers."

Athens Battery Highly Praised

The National Guard battery at Athens has been termed the "best field artillery battery in Texas" following an inspection tour by headquarters staff officers of the 133rd Field Artillery Battalion in Corsicana.

Captain J. C. Gaston said he and Major Thomas M. Spikes, battalion commanding officer, and Sgt. Everett R. Garrison, regular army instructor, inspected Battery A at Athens Monday night and found it to be in excellent condition. The battery lacks only seven men being in full strength, Gaston reported.

The Medical Detachment of the 133rd battalion, commanded by Major Paul H. Mitchell was inspected Monday for Federal recognition by Major A. C. Sanders, of the Inspector General's Department, Fourth Army, San Anotonio.

The inspection at Athens was preparatory to the annual Federal armory inspection scheduled for next month, Captain Gaston reported.

Invited To Take Part In Program

Navarro county citizens are invited to provide a 30-minute program at the thirteenth annual Reunion of the Texas Fiddlers' Association at Athens, May 28, according to a letter received Tuesday morning by L. L. Powell, county judge.

The invitation came from C. H. Stanton, general manager.

MRS. DENSIL W. SCHOMERUS

MISS NORMA JEAN INLOW, DENSIL W. SCHOMERUS EXCHANGE NUPTIAL VOWS

The Assembly of God Church in Port Arthur was the setting on Friday evening, January 30th, for the marriage of Miss Norma Jean Inlow, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Inlow of Port Arthur, to Densil W. Schomerus, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Schomerus of Corsicana, with the bride's father as officiant.

White rosebuds, stock and gladioli were used as altar decor against a background of palms and seasonal greenery. Tall white tapers burned in floor candelabra and provided soft illumination for the rites. Candlelighters were Wilford Thomas and Jack Theriot.

Traditional wedding music was played by Jeannette Cramer, and Billie Bergeron sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

Gowned in White Satin.

The bride was attired in a white satin gown, designed with molded bodice, deep lace yoke, full puffed sleeves, and a full skirt that swept into a train. Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a satin-covered Bible overlaid with orchids.

Mrs. G. Heidecker, Jr., who attended her sister as matron of honor, was gowned in yellow taffeta and net, created with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and full gathered skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet tied with contrasting ribbons and her headdress was designed of flowers and net.

Frances Schomerus, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. She wore blue taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of contrasting spring flowers.

Bridesmaids were Melba Doris Peacock and Ethel Ann Cramer, whose frocks were fashioned of light pink taffeta, designed with bustle effects, and Edna Mae Vickers and Beatrice Die, who wore peach-colored frocks, of similar style. They carried colonial bouquets and wore headdresses of net and flowers.

Bill Schomerus attended his brother as best man. Marie and Peggy Thomas who served as flower girls, wore white taffeta flocks and carried colonial baskets of rose petals. Ushers were Lowell Peacock, James Dowling, Jack Best, and Godfrey Heidecker, Jr.

The bride's mother wore a navy suit with gray accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a green suit with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Informal Reception.

An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was centered with white gladioli and stock, flanked by tall white tapers in crystal candelabra. The two-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was served by Mrs. Bill Schomerus. Presiding at the punch bowl were Ethel Ann Cramer. Billie Bergeron had charge of the bride's book.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride was wearing a gray dressmaker suit with cherry red accessories and an orchid corsage. They plan to make their home at 1025 Stilwell Boulevard, Port Arthur, where the bridegroom is employed by the Gulf Oil Corporation.
